Dear Friends in Christ,

I am happy to offer this word of support for Principles and Choices, an exciting new comprehensive curriculum on the meaning and dignity of human life, published by Healing the Culture.

The curriculum helps advance Healing the Culture's important vision that their "unique philosophical approach to pro-life education will form a people who value the good of others above the good of the self, and a culture that values and protects human life in every form." I believe the curriculum will be received well by teachers and students alike; even more, I think it will change minds, hearts, and lives.

Sincerely in Christ,
